Showcase description

I've worked as freelance Art Director for almost 15 years leading and developing projects of Cross-Publishing for small and medium-sized companies. I'm specialized in Communication, Web and Graphics and I can create for your company Integrated Communication projects. From conception to the final product, I'll be able to organize and lead effectively a team through all phases and support them for practical issues. In doing this job a wise balance of curiosity, creativity and passion always lead me to accomplish successfully high-profile, effective projects.
