Showcase description

Deep-Design studio integrates the different skills in exhibit design, interior design and architecture of different scales of intervention. Process-profile projects both temporary and permanent, offering its expertise to create and implement living spaces, such as commercial and exhibition showrooms, shops, exhibition stands, stage sets for events, conventions, store display. The design methodology has always aimed to the interaction between form and function, and this plays a crucial role dimension of perception that is created through the combination of objects, books, lights, materials, space. Flexibility, willingness and ability to intervene in different phases of the project through a focused proliferation of ideas that result in a more careful design to the final objectives.
