Showcase description

Marcello Gennari has been involved in interior design and design since 1981 and works as an industrial designer and image and communication consultant. IDEA was born for design and works for the industry with the aim of establishing a constructive collaboration over time. This continuity allows, through a natural approach to our specific interlocutor, to design his "ideal product". Designing means venturing along a path full of stimuli, where the continuous elaboration of ideas must lead to an unsuspected creative manifestation. A product is, on the contrary, a material testimony and must support compatibility with the processing cycles, respect the quality/price ratio, and know-how to talk about its protagonist time.
